THE END.

The Catalogue of English Works on Numismatics by Mr. Richard H. Lawrence, concluded in the present number, forms the most valuable, as it is the longest of the many contributions to Numisma during the past two years. In point of accuracy the list leaves nothing, and in that of completeness, but little to be desired. Still Mr. Lawrence will publish in Vol. III. such further supplement as he may be able to compile, and will continue to contribute to our columns articles of general interest. We tender Mr. Lawrence the hearty thanks of ourselves, and also of many collectors who have found his list of great benefit in guiding them in the selection of numismatic works.

THE BOASTER.

In 1875, the great Boaster said, "All coin sales are frauds." And in 1878, the great Boaster exclaimed, "In a few years I shall control all important coin sales in the United States."

Yea, the great Boaster made other foolish speeches, which we forbear repeating.

The great Boaster having lately succeeded in getting a nibble at the grapes which were so sour to him in 1875, now considers himself by far the most important personage among the coin dealers of this country, if not of the world.

Has the great Boaster ever read the fable of the frog, who colapsed into a heap of lifeless residue, while endeavoring to swell up to the size of an ox?

If not, we commend this fable to him for perusal. He will recognize in the ox the united brotherhood of coin collectors and coin dealers in the United States, and no great stretch of imagination will be necessary to show him, in the puffed up but empty shell of the frog, his own dear image, faithfully reflected.

ON A ROMAN COIN.

Written for "Numisma."

How long the years since you were fair and bright?
In what dim vault have you been hid away,
Coming with air antique to our clear day,
From out vast centuries of silent night?
Ah, how your glow gladdened a weary sight,
In times remote, when earth beheld the sway
Of some great Cæsar, scarred in many a fray,
And marshalled countless legions to the fight;
Perhaps a soldier marching out from Rome,
Gave you, a token, to his chosen fair,
And ne'er came back to claim you his again.
Or you were left to guard some lowly home,
From fierce attack of hunger and grim care,
By a tanned sailor bound across the main.

THOS. S. COLLIER.

Vol. III, of NUMISMA will contain interesting original articles by well known American numismatists. In connection with the subject of a new volume we have only to say that our success, especially during the past year, assures us of the continuance of the patronage of independent collectors in the future. The price of NUMISMA continues at 50 cents per volume, payable in advance. Advertisers who wish to renew their advertisement will do well to inform us of the fact at an early date. A few sets of Vols. I and II at $1.00 per set, still remain unsold.

THE GOLOID DOLLAR.

Mr. Harlan P. Smith, a noted collector of American coins in New York, showed us lately, at Mr. Sampson's stand, a proof impression of the pattern goloid dollar struck at the Philadelphia Mint, and of which only a minimum complement (13) are said to have been struck. The description of the coin is as follows:

Head of Liberty with small cap, ornamented with blades of wheat, and a band inscribed "Liberty;" above, in curving line, E. PLURIBUS UNUM; on the right, seven, and on the left, six stars; in exergue 1878. Reverse, a circle of thirty-eight stars, within which in three straight, and two curving lines the words, GOLOID. 1—g.—24—5. 9 FINE. 258 GRAINS; near the border, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA; one dollar. Border milled, edge reeled; size a trifle larger than the half dollar.

A NEW BOOK ON THE COINS AND MEDALS OF CANADA.

We learn that Mr. Henry Mott, Vice President of the Numismatic Society of Montreal, contemplates publishing, at no very distant date, a work on the "Coins and Medals of Canada."

We take pleasure in making this announcement, first, because Mr. Mott is eminently qualified by his natural tastes and his great experience as a collector of Canada coins to write a work of this description, and also, because the work of Mr. Sandham, now out of print, and so difficult to obtain, is really only a pioneer work, and with all its excellence, leaves much undescribed, and even frequently errs in its statements, as has before this been pointed out, especially in the columns of the American Journal of Numismatics. Mr. Mott's promised work, with all the newer information, brought down to the date of publication, and put together with the painstaking zeal of one who loves the science of numismatics, cannot fail to be a valuable addition to our books of reference.

Mr. Adolph Hess, at Frankfort-on-Main, Germany, has just published "Samlung von Thalern und Medaillen im Besitze von Adolph Hess." This work comprises descriptions as well as prices at which the pieces are for sale, and forms an indispensable vade-mecum to every collector. Price, $1.00. Sent postpaid, on receipt of price, by the publisher, or

Mr. S. K. Harzfeld, Times Building, Philadelphia, Pa.

Messrs. S. H. & H. Chapman, 2043 Tower Street, Philadelphia, Pa., have issued a priced catalogue of a collection of fine Ancient Greek gold and silver coins, to which are added a few fine Roman coins, all of which they offer to collectors at private sale. The list comprises not less than fifty tetradrachms including one in superb condition, of Perseus, last King of Macedon, the latter marked $80. Messrs. Chapman Bros. gained considerable experience in the coin and curiosity line while connected with the establishment of Mr. J. W. Haseltine at Phila., and have besides this strong natural tastes and an aptitude for the business, to which they now devote their entire time, energies and business capacities. We wish them success.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS TO MONOGRAPH OF U. S. CENTS AND HALF CENTS.—The plates of the "Monograph," have not yet been received by us. We confidently expected them by the 1st ulto., then our publishers put us off till the 15th, and now, the first of November has come and gone, and still the plates have not reached us. The delay cannot now be prolonged beyond two or three weeks at the most, and subscribers will have the plates forwarded to them as soon as received.

WE have received the catalogue and price list of U. S. copper coins for sale by C. L. Stake, 24 Maple street, Dayton, O.

COIN SALES.

September 6th. The sale conducted by Mr. Ed. Frossard, Editor of NUMISMA was very well attended and the bidding on the whole quite satisfactory. The rare set of 1849 Roman Republic, which had been advertised in NUMISMA at $5, brought $8.40; the Roman Aes, less than they cost to import; the cents and half cents too low prices for the condition; the Gloriam Regni, the finest impression as yet offered in U. S. $13.00; Louis XV, Canada Jeton, $9.00; Edward VI crown $4.50; Mary and Darnley dollar, $11.75; James VI sword dollar, $7.15; the English medals, and numismatic works very good prices. Total proceeds of sale $574.35 which was 24.35 above our estimate.

September 16th to 20th, at Bangs & Co, Mr. Ed. Cogan offered extensive selections of coins and medals selected from various cabinets. We note the following:

1796, dime, fine, 5.50; 1800, do. poor, 3.25; 1809, do. fine, 12.00; 1811, do. fine, 13.00; 1814, do. fine, 5.50; 1802, half dime, probably the finest specimen of this rare date ever offered at auction, $130.00; 1858 proof set in very ordinary condition brought 51.00; many medals in beautiful conditions, and all the numismatic works brought very high prices.

October 10th at Leavitt & Co. Clinton Hall, Mr. H. E. Jones, a Scotch gentleman, sold a number of American coins purchased by him in Edinburgh and elsewhere.

We had occasion to inspect most of the coins offered by Mr. Jones some time before he concluded to sell at auction, and this gentleman gave us some interesting details concerning the unusual luck he had in collecting those rare pieces, most of which were found in tradesmen's tills or bought at merely nominal rates. The 1796 1-2 cent, for instance, was bought by him for 2 shillings, after laying in an old open office drawer for many years, the 1795 fillet head dollar was rescued by him from the melting pot, etc., etc.

Other coins were added by the undertakers of this sale, Messrs. Scott and Company, but we consider most of the pieces between nos. 200 and 388 to have been the property of Mr. Jones, and give the highest prices realized for these: An uncirculated wreath cent of 1793, $69.00; 1794 cent, very fine, 14.00; another 1794, 8.00; 1795 cent, barely circulated and lettered edge, 100.00; 1795 "one cent" high uncir., 18.00; another 12.50; another, "one cent" in center, 14.00; 1796, liberty cap, fine varieties, 17 00 and 27.50; 1798, 9 00 and 8.50; 1803, uncir., 14.00; Half cents, 1793, fine, 10.50; 1795, thick planchet, 10.00; 1796, very good, 36.00; 1795, fillet head dollar, fine, 16 00, and 1798, small eagle, 15 stars, good, 13 00.

October 22d to 25th at Bangs & Co., Mr. Ed. Cogan offered the entire Numismatic cabinet of the late James B. Clemens, Esq., of St. Louis, Mo. This collection contained a large number of valuable gold coins, many rare U. S. silver, among them two pair of the desirable 1796 and 1797 half dollars, and other rarities. Mr. Cogan deserves the thanks of the American collecting public for many things, but two especially which we take the liberty of mentioning: 1st, his conscientious descriptions of coins; and 2d, because when a collection is placed in his hands for sale it is offered entire and unculled. Every piece in this sale brought exceptionally good prices.

Philadelphia sale of coins and medals October 30 and 31, conducted by J. W. Haseltine, Esq. We are glad to see our friend Mr. H. in the field again with a valuable collection, catalogued by him. The lateness of date prevents a review in this number.

COMING SALES.

November 5th and 6th at Philadelphia, Messrs. Thomas & Sons will offer the coins and curiosities remaining in the collection of the late Joseph J. Mickley, at the time of his death. To judge by the catalogue, compiled by Mr. E. Mason, Jr., this sale will be one of the most attractive of the season. Foreign modern silver and rare copper coins in fine condition are well represented in this cabinet. The American series contain pieces for the purchase of which the most lively competition will take place, and the Numismatic books alone would have been worthy of a separate catalogue.

November 11 to 16th inclusive, are, the days, and Bangs & Co., New York, the place, for the sale of the Holland and other collections, under the management of Mr. Woodward. On account of the magnitude of the sale and consequent cost of the catalogue, and for the sake of avoiding duplicating, Mr. W. requests us to state that he will undertake a direct distribution of catalogues to collectors only. Those of our correspondents, therefore, who have habitually received their catalogues through us, are requested to make a direct application for the same to Mr. W. E. Woodward, 258 Dudley St. Boston, Mass. We shall be pleased to receive bids for this sale, and will faithfully execute any that may be intrusted to us at the usual commission of 10 per cent.

On the 16th inst. at 7.30 P. M., Mr. C. H. Bechtel, P. O. Box 77, New York, will offer at auction, through Bangs & Co., the entire private collection of Dr. Wm. Lee, Washington, D. C., of U. S. Currency, Continental and Colonial Paper money, and Confederate Notes and Bonds. Dr. Lee has long been considered high authority on the Confederate currency, and the disposal of his entire cabinet, without reserve, will offer opportunities to collectors not likely to occur again very soon. We notice that one copy of Dr. Lee's rare work will be offered in this sale, and that the copyright of the work is also to be sold to the highest bidder. We have a few catalogues left, and offer the same to collectors interested; we will also execute bids for this sale. Mr. Bechtel is also preparing for public sale the beautiful collection of Foreign Postage and entire U. S. Envelopes, and Revenue Stamps, the property of J. N. T.

Levick, Esq., of New York. This collection contains many rare stamps which few collectors have been able to obtain.

It is more than probable that a small but extremely valuable collection of American cents and half cents, the property of an amateur will be offered at public sale before the end of the year. Considering the beauty and rarity of the pieces, and the strong interest in the national series manifested by all American collectors, this sale, we predict, will attract unusual attention, notwithstanding the many sales which are about to take place.

Messrs. T. R. Strobridge and David Proskey are hard at work cataloguing at Leavitt & Co. Clinton Hall, the celebrated Schieffelin collection of ancient coins. Time of sale, probably the beginning of December.

Mr. Cogan will offer at least one and probably two valuable collections at Bangs & Co. N. Y. before the 31st of December next.

Mr. S. K. Harzfield writes us concerning a sale which he contemplates having at Philadelphia, either this or next month.

The collection of the late Dr. Barrett of Oswego Co. N. Y. is in the hands of Dr. C. E. Fraser, Rome, N. Y., who will offer the same in New York, probably in the earlier part of January 1879.

We hope to notice this collection more fully in our January number which will be issued by Dec. 25, at latest.

W. Elliot Woodward's Twentieth Sale; Bric-a-Brac coins and medals, November 18th, at Clinton Hall, N. Y.
